Settle-Losson.

Sunday high noon, J. Will Losson, formerly of this city, now of St. Louis, and Miss Claudell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Settle, of this city, were married.

Particulars further than, they had already prepared a cosy little home and in an hour after the ceremony were keeping house, could not be obtained.

For several years Mrs Losson was a popular clerk with the Williamson, Yates & Co. business house and as Will Losson was raised in this city, hale-fell low-well-met and liked by all. We with a host of friends wish them well.

Lawless.

The two year old son, Stephen, of Thomas Lawless and wife died of pneumonia Sunday.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Fr. Mullen at the Holy Rosary Church Monday afternoon and the remains laid to rest in consecrated ground.

Well Whipped.

A few days since two little nigs in Hannibal stole a lot of beer bottles. Instead of being sent to jail, one was soundly whipped in the court by his mother and the other by his guardian.

Misses Elva and Emmett Smiley of Richmond, Va., are visiting Missess Olivia and Ruth Brown.

Clothing Tips.

Any article of merchandise bearing this label

Wm. A. Sullivan,
Monroe City, Mo.

means your dollars worth of your money back.

The past six weeks have been busy days for The Big Clothing Store. Low prices square deals and the kind of merchandise that gentlemen wear are the ruling characteristics of our business. If you have bought good merchandise from us, tell others, if you haven't and claim to be a gentleman tell us and get your money back. Let us do business right.

Wm. A. Sullivan,
Cash Clothier.

We never try to deceive, we concoct no schemes, we make no prices on paper offering one half off. Did it ever occur to you brother, that such business means a dishonest merchant or a fool buyer? In either case you are the loon and should earnestly plead for light before trusting such cattle with your business.

Wm. A. Sullivan,
Cash Clothier

If you have been to The Big Clothing and made a purchase you are either satisfied or you are dissatisfied. If dissatisfied tell us and we will make it satisfactory. If you have never been to the Big Clothing Store to make a purchase, you simply don't know and we will excuse you. You are advised to study your own interest, as some people are very confidential in this country.

Wm. A. Sullivan,
Cash Clothier.

All right, do just as you please, but if you don't buy your clothing at The Big Clothing Store you don't buy clothing right.

Wm. A. Sullivan,
Cash Clothier.

METHODIST.

The Methodist house of worship in this city is on the road to being numbered among the handsome christian homes of the state. The interior is being elegantly papered, varnished, pulpit and choir platforms raised and a new pipe organ, as good if not the best one in the city, will be installed as soon as its home is prepared to receive it.

Need Houses.

Several people during the past few months have wanted to make Monroe City, the Queen of the Prairies, their home, but could not for the simple reason there is not a single vacant house in the city that people who think they are some people, will rent.

The latest is, Mrs. R. S. McClintic, who went to Hannibal Saturday to remain indefinitely because no suitable home can be found.

If twenty good neat cottage homes were erected here this summer, there would be no lack of good tenants for them.

Dan Sharp, of Emden, was with Monroe friends Tuesday.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS.

That delighted the Fair Ones and their Guests.

Mrs. Moss

Monday, Mrs. Walter Moss entertained a party of thirty lady friends at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. G. Wood, in honor of Mesdames Witten, Meffert and Shea.

The ladies not only enjoyed a fancy luncheon, such as Mrs. Moss and her mother serves, but they played six hand euchre to a fare-you-well and not once did any of them, though they all talked for we heard them, trump a right bower with the left and then throw the ace in for good measure.

Mrs. Levy.

Mrs. Herman Levy has one of the prettiest and most pleasant homes in the city at the corner of Silk Stocking Row and Green street. A home so pleasant that she wishes her friends to enjoy it jointly with her.

Monday evening she entertained forty eight of her lady friends and that meant an all-around glorious time for it was euchre, euchre, the game that ladies love almost as well as the delicious refreshments that were served or to leading a fellow on to, won't you, won't you, when they know that they only intend to be that fellows sister.

So you see when the ladies are out for euchre and goodies, they have just as good a time as if they were teasing their steady on a moon lighted veranda.

Among the many brilliant functions of the past week none were more delightful than the anniversary reception at the beautiful country place of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Proctor, Jr.

Altho superstitions are many in regard to thirteen, all on this occasion counted themselves happy to be guests at the 13th wedding anniversary.

The spacious rooms were charming in their decoration of asparagus fern and crimson rambler roses. The evening was so cool that within the great fire place the fire light danced and played 'till all were lured within its charmed circle where conversation never lagged and all was joyful.

During the evening Master and Lucia Proctor with the trio of beautiful daughters which grace their home, rendered several selections enjoyed by all.

"Music bath charms" and whenever one is fortunate enough to hear the Scott, Forsythe "quartette" as guests the musical program is complete.

The dining room was a bower of beauty and displayed the artistic skill of the hostess; while the delicious four course collation, elegantly served added pleasure to the happy occasion.

The guest of honor was Mrs. C. S. Proctor, of Hazan, Ark., whom all were delighted to meet. At a late hour the guests departed wishing the host and hostess many happy years filled with sunshine, even to the celebration of the Golden Wedding.
